

In 2021 I wrote my first book, An Illuminati Primer: Understating The System Through the Eyes of Its Whistleblowers.

I was introduced to the organization colloquially called the Illuminati in 2020. It has more proper names than that, but it goes by many monikers. The Brotherhood. The Great White Brotherhood. The New World Order. The United Nations. Its sub-groups and subsidiaries are voluminous. Theosophy, the Golden Dawn, Ordo Templi Orientis, Freemasonry, the Shriners, the CIA, FBI, world monarchies and more all count their ranking members among the Brotherhood membership. At local levels, your sheriff and police departments, schools, universities, some churches, big-name ministers and all manner of other organizations are most likely involved at the highest levels. As one person put it recently, if there's an organization with over 40 members in the world, the Brotherhood has infiltrated it.<sup>1</sup>

And yet, most people around the world seem to have trouble believing that these groups are connected to worldwide human trafficking. Even worse, most decent human beings would be horrified to learn just what constitutes the business of human trafficking as practiced by the Brotherhood organization.

The Brotherhood is an occult organization, and its members practice witchcraft. There's dark magick, white magick, alchemy, transmutation, weather witchery, procurement of human hormones for human ingestion, herbology, dimensional travel and more that its members engage in. I often refer to it as the Luciferian Brotherhood System, because it's part religion that worships Lucifer, and part sophisticated worldwide systematically organized evil.

Why so much child trafficking? Simple. This group's occult practices require children to function. They also require children to fund their operations. Children equal money for the Brotherhood, and they produce a lot of money from child trafficking, especially through the subset of Brotherhood children insensitively termed "expendables." It's an offensive term that the Brotherhood itself uses for its own bloodline offspring. They call these children expendables because they haven't been chosen for positions to run the organization, therefore they can be used by the System to make them money.

One child's net worth is rather staggering in the Brotherhood. And if you're squeamish, steel yourself and be prepared. What they do with children is not only not pretty, it's disgusting.

A single child is first sold for sex to adults, then they're sacrificed (killed) for ritual purposes and demon blood demand/appeasement. Their organs are then sold, then the rest of the body is cannabilized. Their skin is harvested, they are cremated, and their ashes could be pressed into memorial diamonds, or sold to be included as filler in food and pharmaceuticals.<sup>2</sup> And all of this racks up lots and lots of money for the Brotherhood. They may even sell soul rights, in other words, rights to the spiritual ownership of their eternal soul.

Children can be abducted for these purposes (think of the many exploited and missing children), or they can be bred and birthed in breeder programs that never see the light of day, where they are never catalogued, they don't get birth certificates or social security numbers, and when they disappear, they aren't missed. Most of these children are born in bunkers or tunnels underground, and reportedly never see the earth's surface.<sup>3</sup> The homeless, veterans, and runaways are also vulnerable to being lured or hunted and captured, taken underground or to clandestine remote areas and put through consumption and death rituals.<sup>4</sup> There is also selective kidnapping that happens through CPS (Child Protective Services) and hospitals.<sup>5</sup>

This information about underground tunnels is just starting to become known to the general population, but I think the extent of the underground tunnels, including high speed rail, regular rail, trucking, submarine and other tunnels for other transportation modes is still not widely known. These structures are still highly guarded and unavailable to regular military and civilian viewing; the Brotherhood really doesn't want them to be viewed by the general public. Underground is a major part of their base of operation, and there are so many fantastical things down there that most people need to see them to believe them, and that's the last thing the Brotherhood wants is general public knowledge about the communication with spirits, and children in military projects, and thousands of individuals being organ harvested underground. Svali describes a vast underground library of the Jesuit Order (linked to the Brotherhood) as having demonic guardians who would instantly kill any intruders that didn't belong there, including military. There simply isn't a way to get into these underground facilities as a non-member and live through it.<sup>6</sup>

There's a primary reason information about the Brotherhood hasn't seeped into the general knowledge and consciousness of us "surface dwellers," and that's the principle of silence. The Brotherhood has a "code" of silence that they impose on their members, and it's enforced by death. Death of a pet or a family member is a common threat made to Brotherhood members, as children and adults. Attempting to tell or attempting to escape the cult is punishable by death of the member. Death is a theme with this group. They kill expendable children on members' birthdays, in rituals underground, and beneath Catholic Churches, and even under the Pyramids of Giza.<sup>7</sup> This group has a monopoly on the top level of leadership in most religious groups, as well, which is something else that is difficult for the general public to understand. At least it was for me. The Luciferian Brotherhood owns the upper tiers of the Catholic Church.<sup>8</sup> The popes (grey, black and white) are involved.<sup>9</sup> There are Cardinals and Priests and Bishops and members of the Holy See and rooms beneath the Vatican all dedicated to the worship of Lucifer, the Brotherhood's highest ranking demon, or fallen angel. They own the top levels of the Catholic Orthodox Church, a vast number of pastors of Protestant megachurches are Brotherhood members and the top leaders of the Islamic world are an entire Brotherhood lineage called the Muslim Brotherhood. Trafficking children and adults through churches is fairly common.

You might not believe in demons, or spirits or in the devil himself, but the spirit world and beings in the spirit world are integral to the operation of the Brotherhood. The reason the Brotherhood is called the Luciferian Brotherhood, because these people all secretly worship Lucifer. They may be a Methodist, Catholic, or Mormon by day, but by night, they have allegiances and activities in this cult that involve sacrifices to Lucifer or to other demon gods like Thoth or Baphomet or Azazel. Many of these demons are "blood thirsty", as they demand the use of human blood if not the spilling of human blood in these rituals, which happen with alarming regularity.<sup>10</sup> This constant ritual sacrifice demands a continuous supply of trafficked children or adults to feed the Brotherhood sacrifice machinery. Children and adults are also harvested for human hormones, including blood hormones that are produced during torture, or "adreno farming" as one survivor has termed the production of adrenochrome from airplane hanger sized warehouses of nearly dead humans being drained of their blood for these hormones that the Brotherhood members use to "heighten" their "spiritual acuity."<sup>11</sup> Blood is also required for blood drinking, which "is more widespread than you have been lead to believe, and... it is much better organized than you could probably imagine."<sup>12</sup>

I'll stop now for a second and talk a little about cognitive dissonance, and how it has come about that this information has not been widely available to the general public. Most people who haven't come across this kind of detailed information before have an easier time dismissing it out of hand than they do accepting it. The human brain works in such a way that it has a much more difficult time accepting things it's never been exposed to before than it does things that are familiar. We also tend to believe what we see versus what we have never seen. This information, when you come upon it for the first time, can set up cognitive dissonance in our mind. It is diametrically opposed to what we have seen and believed our entire lives, therefore it's easier to dismiss than to accept or embrace as being true.

But I would have seen this before, I would have heard of it before--it can't be true, I've never encountered it before! This is one of the things that crossed my mind when I first began looking into some of the whistleblowers who have made it out of this system, lived, and told about their experiences. I never encountered any of their books when I was in school. Their names were not familiar. Their stories were horrific, and it took time and fortitude to read about some of the horrors they claimed they witnessed. I had a period of time of deep grief, as I began to realize that these whistleblowers were rare, and special, and had somehow survived the inevitable fate of someone who wanted to get out of The System. Most don't get out; they die trying, or are returned, and re-programmed to be obedient servants. A further sad fact is that many who are "out" are still handled by The System, so the flow of information to the public is controlled.

Children who are destined to be a part of the workings of the Luciferian Brotherhood in public with jobs as politicians, or scientists, or heads of corporations or educational institutions, or any other number of job categories that are owned by the Brotherhood are called "hierarchy children". Cathy O'Brien, a survivor of the Lucifeiran Brotherhood System, named Pierre Trudeau (father of Justin Trudeau, prime minister of Canada), Senator Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia, and former president Gerald Ford as some of her abusers and/or individuals she witnessed involved in the activities of the Brotherhood. Cathy was trained as a sex slave by her father and the pornography that Cathy's father produced and sold from her was distributed to Gerald Ford, among others. Fiona Barnett, a survivor from Australia, named Anthony Kidman (father of Nicole Kidman and former wife of Tom Cruise) as one of her main abusers.<sup>13</sup> Adrian John Wells, also a survivor from Australia, has named Scott Morrison, current prime minister of Australia, as one of his abusers. Robert Vandriest-Mitchell had experience in rituals with the British Royal Family, including Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip. Jerusha Eisbold names Michael Aquino, satanist, as one of the individuals she saw regularly at rituals in the US Midwest.<sup>14</sup>

If you've never heard the names of these whistleblowers, you're not alone. This material isn't taught in schools, or colleges or universities (that I'm aware of). These whistleblowers are still a niche set, putting their stories out on film, in blogs, and in books. Most of us haven't have any reason to run across their information in our daily lives.

With the dawn of the Covid era, however, some of this awareness has changed. Further whistleblowers have talked about the highest levels of the Luciferian System, blowing wide open our understanding of what is actually going on. Books like the "Committee of 300" or "The Rise of the Fourth Reich" by Jim Maars got close to the truth, but inside the Luciferian Brotherhood the whole truth is difficult to ascertain. They don't write things down. There is no paper trail. The traditions are oral and experiential, and often not divulged until a hierarchy child actually figures out the answer, at which point they will be shown the place or the answer that they have already ascertained. It's a way of living wholly opposite of the standard governmental K-12 education system, where children are spoon fed the information and have to regurgitate it back.

Vladimir Putin once said that Western Elites "are used to stuffing their bellies with human flesh and their pockets with money."<sup>15</sup> Both the money and flesh come from expendable children, whether their own, or children they steal.

What happens to the children coming over the southern border of the United States? For the most part, we don't necessarily know. In 2022, a conversation between the Health Ranger Mike Adams and David Wilcock (a whistleblower-outed Brotherhood member) revealed a term I've only heard that one interview and never again--"meat wagons." Wilcock and Adams both asserted that multiple individuals they had talked to knew that there were buses that picked up individuals that crossed the US southern border, and then drove those buses into the tunnels underground, where these individuals were delivered to human meat factories.<sup>16</sup> If true, this is a form of human trafficking we ought to know about, as citizens. But for the most part, we don't.

These kinds of reports are not allowed on YouTube or mainstream news. Why? Because the top level of individuals that own and operate both YouTube and television and cable news are Luciferian Brotherhood members, and they keep this information a secret. They won't let it be published on their platforms, and they don't put it on the nightly news. One famous son of Gloria Vanderbilt is a news broadcaster and interviewer on a major cable news network. Both he and his mother have been named as high-level hierarchy Luciferian Brotherhood members by an ex-high level Brotherhood whistleblower.<sup>17</sup> Cisco Wheeler puts it succinctly, "Every major media, radio, newspaper, television, and communications network is owned by a member or associate" of the Brotherhood.<sup>18</sup>

Entire swaths of channels were deplatformed (struck/eliminated) from YouTube at the start of the Covid era. Luckily, alternative video platforms are available that, at least so far, do not censor, discriminate or add "strikes" to people who have other-than-mainstream thoughts and views. Bitchute, Rumble, UgeTube and Odysee have become popular alternatives to YouTube for news and information censored by the mainstream press and YouTube. These days you can find a lot of people also going to their own private pay TV channels. We're still captured by convenience, however. Many folks won't go to alternate-to-YouTube sites because there aren't any apps for them on their phone. Convenience is a stumbling point.

Even alternative media is no guarantee of freedom, however. The mainstream news can lie to us with impunity, but if you are a broadcaster like Alex Jones, for example, well, he can't say what he thinks without the risk of lawfare.<sup>19</sup> He's currently in a fight for his studio equipment from a lawsuit he lost and now owes people millions of dollars in damages. I have no proof, but the probability that the prosecution is bankrolled by the Brotherhood is quite high. Dr. Carol Swain recently had to scrap her lawsuit against Harvard University and Claudine Gay who heavily plagiarized her work, because Harvard has more money than Swain and they made it clear they would bankrupt her in the process of obtaining justice.<sup>20</sup> Harvard is run and staffed by many Brotherhood members. Where does the Brotherhood get its money from? In large part, if you trace it all back to the origins, it's human trafficking. Also drug running and other nefarious activities, but human trafficking is a significant part of it.<sup>21</sup>

We see lawfare right now with former president Trump, as well. I think at last count he has had over 80 lawsuits against him, the most current one with 30+ felony counts on what looked like a rigged judge and jury. If the Brotherhood can't prevent people from speaking or doing, they'll try to legally bury them into submission.

It's not just the Department of Justice or the Attorney's General staffed by and doing the bidding of the Brotherhood. Chuck Schumer, senate Democrat leader, warned Donald J. Trump in 2017 that intel officials will come after you if you challenge them. "You take on the Intelligence community, they have six ways from Sunday at gettin' back at you." He said that Trump was "really dumb" to take them on. It sounds like a warning, but it may have also been a threat. It's no secret that many of the men at the top levels of the FBI and CIA were Luciferian Brotherhood members.<sup>22</sup> Chuck Schumer hasn't directly been named as a Luciferian Brotherhood member by eyewitness whistleblowers, but there's enough secondary evidence to strongly surmise he is also a hierarchy member. Michael Bara, a secret societies researcher, said about Schumer that "there's things I know about Schumer, that I can't even tell you on this or any other podcast, I'd get in real trouble. He's not on our side, meaning good people of the planet."<sup>23</sup> Sometimes, looking at who is opposing whom is a good way to tentatively place individuals in the Luciferian vs. non-Luciferian category. The fact that he's an elected member of congress leans him toward the Luciferian Brotherhood member side. A significant number of congress members, as far as I can tell, are probable hierarchy members of The Luciferian Brotherhood System.

The structure of the Brotherhood hierarchy, as well as the structure of the hierarchy of most organizations run by the brotherhood is simple. It's a pyramid. The bottom third of the pyramid in organizations is staffed by clueless non-brotherhood individuals. Good people. The middle-third is probably fifty-fifty Brotherhood and non-Brotherhood. And the top is 100% Brotherhood. It's this way with social clubs, churches, government, education and other institutions. The Brotherhood members rise to the top and govern the bottom third, who are forced to accept their dictates or their "values." The reason most of us don't see what is going on is that we are not, for the most part, mixed-in with the top brotherhood members at the apex of these corporate or institutional pyramids. We can see their intent as the "corporate values" dictates come down through the ranks, forcing people to abandon their Christian religious values in favor of Luciferian values such as Baphomet worship, or tolerating the Luciferian "pride" flag. Did you know that the rainbow flag is actually owned by the Brotherhood? It is. They make it seem like it is an organic cultural symbol, but it isn't, according to insiders. Inside the Brotherhood Lucifer is known as "the god of the rainbow," among other monikers.<sup>24</sup> If you have any doubt that organizations are owned by Brotherhood members, just take a look at the Paris Olympic opening ceremonies. Luciferians hate the real Jesus Christ, and they're not afraid to show it publicly.

It's difficult to make headway with social problems like human trafficking when the people running government, institutions, and government-linked organizations do not have the child's well-being in mind. There's been a shift in the past few decades from charities to what they term non-governmental organizations, and with that shift has come a much more tight knit partnership and partnering of these organizations with government. The Center for Missing and Exploited children is run by the FBI, according to Cathy O'Brien, and a Brotherhood member from West Virginia, Senator Robert Byrd, had an office in the FBI building specifically to set it up.<sup>25</sup> What this means is that missing children, likely abducted by the Brotherhood, are funneled not to an independent 3rd party so they can be recovered. They're funneled back to the Brotherhood-run groups for "damage control." Cathy O'Brien put it "National Center for Missing and Exploited Children ... just put(s) the children right back into the human trafficking rings."<sup>26</sup>

Even worse, the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children is connected also to the Clinton Foundation, and the Clinton Foundation has been outed by a whistleblower as a repository for infant and child pornography by a woman whose husband was doing the photography for them.<sup>27</sup> Both Bill and Hillary Clinton have been named by many, many ex-Brotherhood whistleblowers as being witches, high-level occultists, cannibals, and more.<sup>28</sup> Fiona Barnett wrote in her book Eyes Wide Open "The Clinton Foundation was a front for the trafficking of Children, including Haiti Earthquake victims."<sup>29</sup>

Again, it's hard to come from a place in life where the world seems normal, and then come upon this kind of information where it turns your world upside-down. I get it. The world is run by a hidden occult organization whose members abduct, torture, and eat children. It's difficult to comprehend.

If you imagine a corporation, with a CEO and CFO, president, vice-president, supervising managers, managers, and employees, this is a bit like how the Brotherhood system was run for centuries. There were 5 top women, called Mothers of Darkness. They interfaced with the CEO, Lucifer. The women are 3-dimensional, and live on earth in human bodies.<sup>30</sup> Lucifer can be either human or dragon, either 3D or spirit body.<sup>31 32 33</sup> For centuries Lucifer gave instructions to the Mothers of Darkness who passed them down to their Grand High Priests and Priestesses, who passed them to the High Priests and Priestesses and Grand Dames, who passed them down to the rank and file members. What's the business that all these instructions cover? Gun running, Drug running, and human trafficking, among other illicit opportunistic ventures.

The Brotherhood trafficks children on the water, inside cargo containers on massive ships, on yachts,<sup>34</sup> on submarines, on the railroads, inside cargo vans and by virtually any other method of travel you can imagine. They set up Child Protective Service offices in the basement of hospitals to track children they are interested in at birth. There are drugs that can make infants appear dead, and they are taken from their parents, but the children aren't dead at all. The electronic medical records system that is most widely used in the world is EPIC, and that system was built from the ground up, likely by Brotherhood Luciferians.<sup>35</sup> EPIC headquarters is in Verona, Wisconsin.<sup>36</sup> Their aim seems to be to track the medical history of every human on the planet. One of the buildings at their headquarters has an elevator that is labelled with a sign indicating that it goes to hell. As outsiders of the system, we think that these things are cute and metaphorical. To Brotherhood members, it's more fact than fiction.

Where does the Brotherhood get the people to run this vast, extensive and complicated system of human trafficking? They have their Hierarchy Children who they choose and train at very young ages to do the work of this group. Hierarchy children are born into certain long-standing families of the occult, called bloodline families.<sup>37</sup> They are trained for specific positions within the Brotherhood. Some are trained as military. The Brotherhood has their own military termed the "Sovereign Military".<sup>38</sup> Some are trained as world leaders, scientists, religious figures, government workers, and educators.<sup>39</sup> Some of the individuals that have been named being in the Brotherhood are congress members, presidents, prime ministers, members of the United Nations, governors, premiers, kings and queens, actors and actresses, musicians and singers, scientists, pastors of Christian mega-churches, Satanists, multi-star Generals, debutantes, nightly news anchors, talk show hosts and bankers.<sup>40</sup>

The people in the system are groomed, manipulated, coerced, threatened and dictated-to; their lives are not their own and they do what they are told or they face horrific consequences. They can't decide to "give up" either, or they face horrific consequences.<sup>41</sup> Much of what they are told to do is abhorrent to the rest of us, and can be to them, as well. Sometimes, they're not consciously aware of what they do. Luckily for the system, they've developed a way to give most of their members amnesia, so they do horrible things in their nighttime occult role but then don't remember what they've done in their daytime occult persona.<sup>42 43 44</sup> Even if they do remember, there's nobody to tell, no way to escape; they are monitored and watched so that they comply with the Brotherhood's code of silence. Their term for maintaining a certain composure and silence is posture and they must maintain this posture or be subject to consequences.<sup>45 46</sup>

The term for the process that most occult children go through (whether in the Jesuit order or the Brotherhood or any other subset of the worldwide occult) is programming. Programming is a process whereby a child has a response to a trigger deeply ingrained in them, creating a physical reaction that bypasses their conscious brain. It's a robotic or instant response, devoid of the ability for them to physically or mentally resist. The simplest way to explain programming is that it is a repeated activity whereby a child is expected to perform a specific task without question. Failure to do the task properly will result in punishment and success will be rewarded. In a sense, it's like training for the Olympics. The activity, like a certain skill in gymnastics or diving, will be repeated thousands of times until it is second nature, ingrained, and conscious thought isn't necessary. The difference is that unlike an Olympian, the occult child is treated like a trained dog, where in response to a color, word, number, or other signal from an occult handler, the child performs the programmed response.

Torture and abuse come before, during, and sometimes after programming occurs. Svali, a survivor and former programmer for the Jesuit Order describes one process of programming a child so that they will shoot a loved one without hesitation, on command. They begin by teaching gun skills, then go on to teaching them to shoot small targets, where they are berated and punished for mistakes and heavily rewarded for success. Successively harder targets are used for further training combined with "further torture and abuse" will eventually result in a robotic, ingrained response. At the height of the programming, "If they will shoot the person they love most on command, the programming is considered "engraved", and only needs to be reinforced periodically from then on."<sup>47</sup> Their children become their slaves and their soldiers. A programmed slave is much less likely to revolt against this evil structure than a non-programmed human being.<sup>48</sup>

The end goal of this Brotherhood is to raise a (programmed) army to surround their genetically manipulated, groomed from birth, trained and sculpted Anti-christ. They want to genocide everybody without the proper (occult) bloodlines, like tenet 1 of the Georgia Guidestones stated.<sup>49</sup> They want the earth and the heavens to themselves. Catherine Austin Fitts calls their efforts to cull the human herd "The Great Poisoning."<sup>50</sup> She sees food and water supplies and medicine as vehicles to their efforts to make people ill, weak, and dead. The Brotherhood's battle cry, a "New World Order" means anybody that remains alive lives in direct slavery and servitude to the Bloodline Brotherhood and Lucifer, their master.

As I've noted in my book, I don't expect you to believe me; I encourage you to get my free book<sup>51</sup> and search through the 400+ references in the back of it and decide for yourself. The implications of these whistleblowers is immense; the entire occult world domination system stands to fail if enough people believe these folks and pray against their success.

When we first learn about this system, good people want to "do something." Here's what you can do. Talk about it with your neighbors. Spread the word. Get people talking. Begin to break down the mental barriers. The Brotherhood can't succeed if their schemes are well known in the general population.
